

DID YOU KNOW?

A recent study showed that only 18% of women presenting for assistance in achieving pregnancy had knowledge of their signs and symptoms of the window of fertility.

OPPORTUNITY

We will help to maximise your capacity to assist women in monitoring the unique phases of their cycle using an empirical method.

This seminar will help you optimise your patient's chance of pregnancy before intervention.

PRESENTERS

Dr Mary Walsh

Dr Walsh is a G.P. with a special interest in Women's Health which led to her opening a Fertility Assessment Clinic as part of her practice at Manningham General Practice. Following her involvement in "A study on fertility, infertility awareness in general practice: a survey of knowledge and attitude", she has been interested in raising awareness of fertility symptoms through QI&CPD programs.

Gillian Barker

Gillian Barker is a Senior Teacher and Trainer of the Billings Ovulation Method®, who is involved in the training of doctors, health professionals and teachers of the Method in Australia as well as overseas. She made a very substantial contribution to the scientific verification of the Billings Ovulation Method® as a collaborator with the late Professor James B Brown in the development of the Ovarian Monitor.

Inaam Abiad

Inaam Abiad is a Senior Teacher of the Billings Ovulation Method®, who has extensive experience in teaching couples to monitor their fertility at Manningham General Practice working with Dr Mary Walsh at the Fertility Assessment Clinic.

Jenny Kelly

Jenny Kelly is a Senior Teacher of the Billings Ovulation Method®. As well as teaching couples to monitor their fertility, she is the Co-ordinator of Australian teacher trainees.

The paper by the late Emeritus Professor James B Brown on his study of the ovarian variants of the Continuum of Ovarian Activity is available through Human Reproduction Update at Oxford Journals (<http://goo.gl/FJw6b>)
